

SCIENTIFIC GAMES' INKS FOUR-YEAR EXTENSION FOR ICONIC SLINGO® BRAND

With Extended Play Lottery Scratch Game Sales Surging, SLINGO Offers Players Two Games in One

LAS VEGAS and ATLANTA – May 13, 2021 – Scientific Games Corporation (NASDAQ: SGMS) (“Scientific Games” or the “Company”) announces that its agreement with Gaming Realms plc (AIM: GMR) for the exclusive rights to offer the iconic SLINGO brand in lottery for instant, terminal-generated and drawing-based games, is extended for four years in the North American, UK, European, New Zealand and Australian markets. In addition, Scientific Games has the opportunity to offer SLINGO branded digital lottery games.

SLINGO, a combination of player favorites bingo and slots, remains one of the hottest brands for lottery games since it came to life in 1995. More than 350 SLINGO branded lottery games have been launched by 40 lotteries around the world, with 550 million tickets sold valued at more than $1.7 billion. With 30 million players new to lottery in the pandemic, SLINGO is enjoying popularity. The brand is often featured in extended play instant scratch games, which have increased in sales by 26% over the past year. Retail sales of SLINGO branded games are up 87% (May 2020-May 2021).

Michael Buckley, Executive Chairman of Gaming Realms, said, “We are delighted to extend our licensing agreement with Scientific Games, with whom we have worked very closely over the last 20 years. Our collaboration on SLINGO lottery products has proven to be very successful to date, and we look forward to continuing our work together for the enjoyment of players.”

The brand has been featured in the Scientific Games licensed products portfolio since 2000, and it is consistently a top-performing brand globally. SLINGO games remain a perennial staple in many U.S. lotteries’ game portfolios. The Idaho Lottery launched its 75TH SLINGO game in 2021, with other lotteries stacking up 30+ or even 50+ editions over the years.

“Players love SLINGO. We are excited for the opportunity to continue innovating more great retail and digital SLINGO games to keep them entertained, and to help lotteries generate funding for their beneficiary programs,” said Liz Johnson, Director of Lottery Licensed Properties for Scientific Games. “SLINGO is perfect for extended play instant games, and the games also include an instant win feature for players to win an instant cash prize.”

Scientific Games credits the brand’s strength to the crossover of casino slots and lottery instant game players. The company’s ONE™ player segmentation study cited that 74% of casino slots players play instant games and 50% of instant games players play slots.

Scientific Games provides games, technology and services to more than 150 lotteries around the globe, and is the world’s largest creator, manufacturer and services provider of lottery instant games in the world with products generating more than 70% of global instant game retail sales.
